FMS Inc. delivers Sentinel TMS Version 2.1 to Customers

Vienna, VA, March 28, 2004 – FMS Inc., an award winning software development and technology company, today announced the delivery of Sentinel TMS Version 2.1 to customers. Driven by customer feedback, this new version offers powerful new analytical and data management functions.

"Version 2.1 represents a compelling set of new functionality that directly targets customer needs. Our new extensible metadata model offers complete data flexibility," said Dan Haught, Executive Vice President of FMS Inc. "We've also worked hard to deliver enhancements to the visualization and analysis tools, and optimized performance in many key areas."

Sentinel TMS: The Next Generation in Advanced Analysis

Sentinel Treat Management System ('TMS') delivers an integrated environment for analyzing and managing data. With advanced data management and analysis, complex problems are reduced to manageable tasks. Utilizing intuitive user interfaces, Sentinel TMS allows analysts to almost immediately see data, links, rank threats, and measure information integrity in a single platform. Advanced visualization, knowledge sharing, and analytics are the product's hallmark. Additional integration with third-party software such as entity extraction offerings, mapping, or different data sources is easily accomplished through its modular architecture.
